DEPOSIT PROTECTION CHECK

Before you send the deposit

Your builder and their quote, checked before any money moves. What is wrong with the arrangement as it stands, the payment terms to put in its place, and exactly what to send the builder, in plain English.

PREPARED FOR	PROPERTY

☐ DRAFT ☐ ISSUED

Prepared by Monique Sewell-Bennett, seven years of UK construction and IoT project management, supplying professional services as a sole trader. Every finding in this report is rated, and the verdict written, by her and nobody else. What it does not do: value the property, confirm title, give a structural opinion, or estimate what the work should cost.

A. How to read this report

Every red flag carries one of three ratings. Each rating tells you what to do about it and by when, so you can act on this report without having to interpret it.

SEVERE	Do not pay anything until this is resolved in writing. Paying first leaves you exposed in a way that is hard or impossible to recover from abroad.
MODERATE	Resolve before the second payment. It will not stop the job starting, but left alone it is where a dispute later comes from.
LOW	Get it in writing when convenient. Good practice, and a builder who agrees easily is a good sign.

In the checklist, each line carries one of these:

PROVIDED	The builder has given it, in writing.
NOT PROVIDED	Not in anything received. A gap in the paperwork, not an accusation.
NOT FOUND	Looked for independently and could not be found.
REFERRED ON	A question for another profession. See section L.
NOT APPLICABLE	Does not arise on this job.

G. Payment terms

The left column is what the builder proposed. The right column is Yaadly's standard, the same on every check.

TERM	AS THE BUILDER PROPOSED IT	WHAT TO AGREE INSTEAD
Money before work		Nothing before the materials are on site. The first payment is stage 1 of the schedule.
Who is paid		An account in the contractor's own name, confirmed in writing, or the materials supplier directly.
How it is paid		Bank transfer only. Never cash, and never a transfer to a person collecting on their behalf.
Materials		Supplier invoices made out in your name. Pay the supplier directly if the contractor agrees.
Stages		Paid in stages, each only against the evidence in the payment schedule.
When a stage is paid		Within two working days of the evidence arriving, so the contractor is never kept waiting once the work is proven.
Receipts		A written receipt for every payment, dated, naming the stage.
The last payment		Paid only once a snag list is agreed and every item on it is signed off.
Currency		Each stage fixed in Jamaican dollars in writing, so an exchange rate move does not change what is owed.
If work stops		If no work happens for ten working days without a written reason, no further stage is paid until you have both agreed a new date in writing.
Changes		No extra work is paid unless it is agreed in writing before it starts.

H. Payment schedule

The order money should move in, and what must exist before each stage is paid. No stage is a share or a percentage here: the shares are agreed between you and the builder.

M. What this review is and is not

It is a review of the contractor, the quote and the arrangement as they stood in the documents received, on the date above. It does not value the property, confirm title or ownership, give a structural opinion, set a boundary, or estimate what the work should cost, and those questions are referred on in section L. It is not a warranty or a guarantee that the contractor will perform.

Declaration

I reviewed the documents listed in section B. Every finding in this report is rated, and the verdict written, by me. It is a true account of what the documents said and what I found.
